THE RED RANGER

RED RANGER

NAME: Rocky.
VITAL STATISTICES: 5"6" , Brown Hair.
POWER SOURCE: Tyrannosaurus.
WEAPON: Power Sword.
VEHICLE: Red Dragon Thunderzord.
SPECIAL SKILL: Karate.
PERSONAL: Rocky spends much of his time working out new karate moves and perfecting old ones. Sometimes his sly smile will reveal a "kid next door" manner with a bit of a mischievous streak. Along with Adam and Aisha, he was among the first ordinary humans to discover the identities of the Power Rangers. A likeable guy of few words, he prefers to let his hands and feet do the talking when things get rough.

MORPHIN MAIL

Important: Hamilton Comics welcomes any and all correspondence concerning the Mighty Morphin Power Rangers comic book. However, anyone wishing to write to the Power Rangers TV show (or the Power Rangers Movie, which is being released to theaters even as this letter column is being written) should send cards and letters to Saban's Mighty Morphin Power Rangers*, P.O. Box 10277, Van Nuys, CA 91410-0277. Thanks!*

We are 16-year-olds who actually watch the Power Rangers, but you've got to admit the guys are hot! It's not the fact that we have absolutely nothing to do in this little town, but we've really grown attached to the Rangers, especially Rocky, Aisha and of course, Billy, the beautifully built Blue Ranger. We were really excited that you put Rocky, Aisha and Adam in the comic book; as far as we're concerned, Trini, Jason and Zach do not deserve the pleasure of being seen in a comic book! We noticed in issue 5 you got a lot of suggestions, including the creation of a Purple Ranger. A Purple Ranger would rock! We think you all are doing a great job and we hope there are more comics to come! Also, if there are more comics, are you going to have Rita and Lord Zedd getting married? And would Rita be Rita Zedd or still Rita Repulsa, or even Rita Repulsa-Zedd? Hope to find out!

Shelly Weiss
and Shannon Phillips
Miamisburg, OH

Your Ranger comics are great! I just got Mighty Morphin Power Rangers 5 and it was great! But there were some things I didn't understand. Why did Tommy get into the MegaThunderzord and not call for the Tigerzord? Because on the TV show he doesn't! Why don't the Rangers ever morph in order like the show? (Tommy, Adam, Kimberly, Billy, Aisha and Rocky?) Why did Billy say, "Shouldn't that be zounds! No I suppose Zords would be more appropriate in this case?"

Why did Aisha say "We're not Rangers" to Zedd pretending to be Rocky when Adam was morphed? Please answer my questions. I suggest "Mighty Morphin Mail" for the letter page. And I suggest a monster frog called the "Bog Frog."

Tyler Smoot
Winchester, IN

Hi, my name is Dana Rivera. I think your show is great! So are your comics. But there are a few mistakes that were not mentioned.

In issue 5 when you see Alpha his eyes are separated from his head (helmet). But in the show he doesn't have eyes, he has a thick red ring around his helmet.

In battle, the Power Rangers don't call each other White Ranger, Red Ranger and so on. They call them by their names, Tommy, Rocky, etc.

Kimberly's stepfather doesn't look anything like his illustration in issue 5. He has brown hair and a beard and mustache. He is also not chubby and doesn't have gray hair.

When all of the Power Rangers morph, it goes; Tiger Zord, Mastodon, Pterodactyl, Triceratops, Saber-tooth Tiger, Tyrannosaurus. Not White Tiger, Pterodactyl, Tyrannosaurus, Triceratops, Saber-tooth Tiger, Mastodon.

The Power Rangers jump into their zords before they are fully assembled, not when the Thunder Megazord is finished.

When they call out their Thunder Zords on the show they say their names like for example: Pterodactyl Firebird Thunderzord Power. They just don't say "We need Thunder Megazord power now!"

The White Ranger doesn't jump into the Thunder Megazord with the other Rangers. The only zords that he is in are; Tiger Zord, Mega Tiger Zord, and Thunder Ultra Zord.

I also wanted to say to Demetrious Travlos who wrote in issue 5 that the monster that Zedd made from a poster to suck up the Green Ranger's (Tommy) power, was not called the "Buzz Beetle" but, the "Stag Beetle." There was never any monster named the Buzz Beetle. I also have a few suggestions for the story line in the comic book. Rita and Zedd should be married in some of them. You should make a comic based on the TV episodes.

I also have a few questions: In issue 5, the second story was called "A Stranger in a Strange Town," you had the characters Billy, Adam, Aisha, Kimberly and Rocky, but not Tommy. Where was he all the time? And how come you are located in Prescott, Arizona, and not in L.A. California with Saban and the MMPR?

Dana Rivera
Long Island City, NY

I like your comics, your show and your pogs. But I like your comics the best. My favorite Ranger is Tommy. And my brother's favorite is Jason. We have issue 5. It has Tommy the White Ranger. I want to see Tommy's parents. And I want to see the Mighty Morphin Power Rangers movie.

In Power Rangers issue 5, why did Kid Zippo just use a thumb to fight? I want Tommy to marry Kimberly. I wish I was Tommy and the White Ranger.

Matthew
San Antonio, TX

I hope you come out with another series of Power Ranger comics after Series 2. Can you make another series of "Power Rangers, The Movie"? I'd like to see Ivan Ooze and stuff from the movie, like the Falcon Ninjazord, the Crane Ninjazord, and all the new Ninjazords.

Never stop making Power Rangers comics. Even my mom reads them. We both like Tommy. Morph On!!

Patrick Siebel
Myrtle Beach, SC

I'd like to start out by letting you know I love your MMPR comic books, especially issue 5. But there are some things that are not on the TV show

The White Ranger does not jump into the Thunder Megazord with the other Rangers. MMPR do not have their symbols on their chests. Only Tommy has his symbol on his chest. To make a monster grow, Zedd does not throw his wand like Rita Repulsa, he throws a bomb.

If you can fix up these minor problems, kids will have a "Morphin" comic book to look at!

Marshall Riley
Siloam Springs, AR

I am writing to compliment you on your Power Rangers comics and also to show you some mistakes in comic 1. (Oh yes, no offense, I didn't think the art was good at all in 3.) The mistakes are: Jason is too fat, Bulk and Skull don't look like them, (plus Skull says "Why get your hopes up? You know when you've met your match!" and then Bulk says "Yeah! Met your match!" That is Skull's line.) Zedd looks through a telescope, not his eyes, which it's supposed to be. The putties don't explode. When the caterpillar wraps up Zack, Trini and Jason and they get them back, Zack does not have his costume on but the others do. Zedd throws his stuff down to make the monster grow, and not the bomb. In the end Zedd says "Arrgh! I have a headache" and the Rangers have their emblems on their chests. I'm not telling you to stop the comics, but the artwork should be good like in issue 2.

John Darcy
Rockport, MA

How long did it take to make the Power Ranger Movie? Saban, I've heard that the reason the 3 Rangers left was because they wanted more money. Is this true? If it isn't, then why did they leave? One more question: why are you adding these new zords? I'm not meaning to be rude, just please answer my questions.

Wayne Cato Jr.
La Grange, GA

Although we've explained in other letter columns why there are inconsistencies between what readers see on the TV show and what appears in the comic book, the information bears repeating.

We and our writers see the shows at the same time most of our readers do. That's when we find out what's happening, and then, after the several months it takes to write, draw, letter, approve, color, have film made and sent to the printer, where the comic is printed and sent out to distributors who then send it around to newsstands and the like, then the developments on the show finally appear in the comic. By that time, of course, other changes have occurred on the show.

Certain elements, such as the chest symbols, are required by Saban for all printed matter showing the Rangers, in spite of the fact that they are not part of the TV uniforms. These will remain on the comic book Power Rangers for that reason.

I think it would be neat if you would make a comic book where the Rangers are teleported by one of Lord Zedd's monsters to a planet of robots. In your second series will the Power Rangers travel back in time?

Jeff Zagoudis
Palatine, IL

Power Rangers are fun to read in comics. The issue I have is my very first. It's the one with the Gargantutron and when the Rangers go to a mall which is Zedd's trap, I like it when they call on the Thunderzords.

The Rangers in the comics look the same as in the show. Looks like you got some great art skills.

I really like your comic books and hope to see them as a permanent series. I just finished reading the first comic of your second series. This is the first time I've admitted outside of my family that I like the Power Rangers, because I'm twelve years old and my friends hate MMPR.

I have three questions to ask:

Is there going to be a third miniseries?

Are you going to change the zords to match the movie's new zords?

Is Tommy really 5'6"? (If so I'm taller than him; I'm a girl in the sixth grade who happens to be 5'7".)

Again, I love your comic books!

Congratulations on a great comic book! It's absolutely morphinominal! I am the proud owner of issues 1-6. I know a lot of people have written to you to complain that the comic doesn't follow the show. I have almost every episode on tape, and even I have a little trouble keeping up with some of the changes. Besides, your stories are getting better and better all the time. You seem to have captured the spirit of the show. My only regret is that there is no permanent artist. I know you would have a hard time choosing one, as Billy would note, every single one of them is prestigious. But there are some who stand out above the rest. These are John Heebink and Al Bigley. I would like to see Bigley's version of the White Ranger, who hasn't made an appearance yet. I think the best way to solve this little artist problem would be to mix Bigley's fight scenes with Heebink's teenager scenes.

When is Tor the Shuttlezord going to make his comic book debut? Also give Saba some lines. This character is underused on the show and deserves his chance in the spotlight.

You are doing a great job! Keep up the good work! So, until Lord Zedd gets scared back into his skin, make mine morphin!
